

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

at the Maxwell School of Syracuse University

16-month timeframe

Small class size, personal attention

Integrated global internship

Unique exchange programs

Professionally oriented curriculum

Multidisciplinary approach

Loyal, active alumni network

For more than 80 years, the Maxwell School has been among the very best schools of public and international affairs.

The Master of Arts in International Relations is a professional degree program that combines rigorous, multidisciplinary academic coursework with real-world skills to give graduates an edge in the global job market.

The 40-credit curriculum requires completion of two career tracks, region-specific coursework, second-language proficiency, and a professional capstone experience.

The IR Program benefits from Maxwell's 145 faculty members spanning six social science disciplines as well as from practitioner scholars in Syracuse, Washington, and abroad.

MA-IR CURRICULUM

- 40 credits
- 5 core/signature courses
- 2 career tracks, total of 5 courses
- 2 regional courses
- 2 electives
- 1 global internship
- 1 capstone experience

IR CAREER TRACKS

- Global Markets
- Global Development
- Foreign Policy
- Negotiation and Conflict Resolution
- Global Security
- Transnational Organizations and Leadership

JOINT DEGREES

- MA-IR/MS Public Relations (Newhouse School of Public Communications)
- MA-IR/MPA (Maxwell's Department of Public Administration)
- MA-IR/MA-Econ (Maxwell's Department of Economics)
- MA-IR/JD (Syracuse University College of Law)

IR CERTIFICATES

- Advanced Studies in Conflict Resolution
- Advanced Studies in Civil Society Organizations
- Information, Technology Policy, and Management
- Advanced Study in Security Studies
- Advanced Studies in South Asian Studies
- Latin American and Caribbean Studies
- Advanced Study in Middle Eastern Affairs

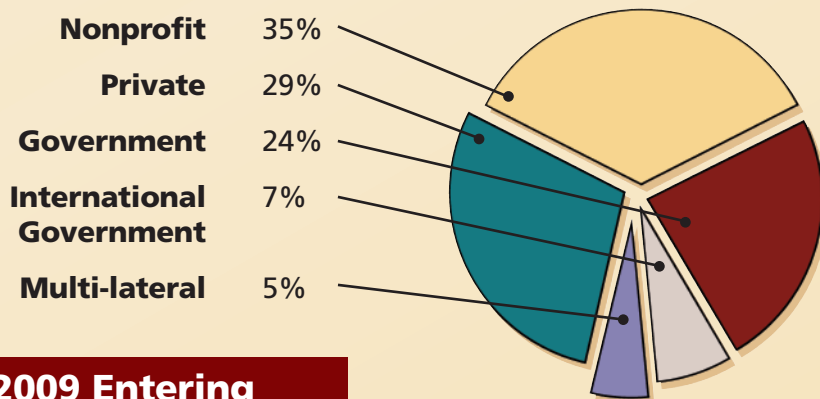

irgradir@maxwell.syr.edu
www.maxwell.syr.edu/ir

Global Programs

The IR Program maintains internship and academic programs as well as exchange opportunities all over the world. One hundred percent of MA-IR students complete an internship as part of this program.

Employment by Sector

2009 Entering Class Profile

Class size: 108 students
 Average age: 26
 Percent international: 35%
 U.S. Minority: 9%
 Median GPA: 3.6
 Median GRE-V: 530
 Median GRE-Q: 650
 Median GRE-W: 4.5

DEADLINES

February 1. Admissions and Financial Aid

March 15. Fall Admissions Consideration

Apply online at
<https://apply.embark.com/grad/syracuse/37/>

Select Interns

MATTHEW PIETZ, MA-IR/MPA '05
 From Bay Village, OH
 Intern, Amnesty International, Santiago, Chile
 Global South Program, Fall 2004

YAE JEAN LEE, MA-IR/JD '05
 From Seoul, Korea
 Intern, Institute of International Finance, Washington, DC
 D.C. Summer Practicum, 2004

SEAN KIMBALL, MA-IR '05
 From Lock Haven, PA
 Intern, U.S. Mission to the EU, Brussels, Belgium
 Global Europe Program, Fall 2004

JANOUSKA GRANDOIT-SARR, MA-IR/MA-Econ '05
 From Staten Island, NY
 Intern, USAID Caribbean Desk
 D.C. Summer Practicum, 2004

Select Graduates

MOTOKY HAYAKAWA, MA-IR/MPA '00
 From Nagoya, Japan
 Resource Mobilization Officer, World Health Organization
 Geneva, Switzerland

MARTIN ORAVEC, MA-IR/MA-Econ '05
 From Bratislava, Slovakia
 Analyst, Pace Global Energy Services
 Washington, DC

ADITEE MASKEY, MA-IR '04
 From Kathmandu, Nepal
 U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs, Nepal
 Kathmandu, Nepal

BELINDA JACKSON, MA-IR '01
 From Partlow, VA
 Foreign Service Officer, U.S. Department of State
 Washington, DC

The International Relations Program

Maxwell School of Syracuse University
Advancing citizenship, scholarship, and leadership around the world
 225 Eggers Hall / Syracuse, NY 13244
 Tel: 315.443.2306 / Fax: 315.443.9204

irgradir@maxwell.syr.edu
www.maxwell.syr.edu/ir