

CHUNG-CHIN EUGENE LIU

110 Eggers Hall
Syracuse University
Syracuse, NY 13244
(315)443-2078
clius09@maxwell.syr.edu

EMPLOYMENT

Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Syracuse University
August 2011 to present

Senior Consultant, Progressive Expert Consulting, Inc., Syracuse, NY
July 2009 to present

Republic of China Navy
February 2010 to January 2011

Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Hamilton College
July 2006 to June 2009

Lecturer, Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Cazenovia College
August 2005 – December 2005

Instructor, Department of Economics, Syracuse University
June 2004 – August 2004

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Economics
Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY, August 2006

M.A., Economics
Syracuse University, Syracuse, NY, May 2004

B.A., Business Administration/Economics
Eastern Oregon University, La Grande, OR, June 2000

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Immigration
Economic Development

Labor Economics
International Economics
Innovation and Technology

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

International Trade Theory and Policy
Economics of Innovation and Technology
Development Economics
Economics of Social Issues
Intermediate Math Microeconomics
Intermediate Macroeconomics
Issues in Macroeconomics
Issues in Microeconomics
Economic Ideas and Issues
Economic Statistics
Foundations of Econometrics (Graduate Level)
Survey of Microeconomic Theory (Graduate Level)

RESEARCH PAPERS

“Labor Market Impact of Foreign Skilled Labor on U.S. Native Information Technology Workers: Evidence from the Computer and Telecom Industry”

“Effects of Immigration on Native Earnings in the U.S.: A Production Function Approach”

“Local Labor Market Impact of Immigrant Information Technology Workers”

“Cheap Techies for Hire? Assessing the Wage Gap between Foreign and Native Information Technology Workers”

“Effects of IT Immigration on the Number of IT graduates in U.S. Universities: Evidence from IPEDS Data”

“Wage Pattern, Skill Bias, and Globalization in Developing Countries: Evidence from Chile, Colombia, South Korea, and the Philippines”

“International Trade and Wage Inequality in Newly Industrializing Countries: A Case Study of Taiwan”

“Foreign Direct Investment and Host Country Taxation”

PRESENTATION

Department Seminar, Hamilton College, July 2006

SU Project Advance, New York City & Syracuse, October 2014

SERVICE

Faculty Advisor, Taiwanese Student Association of Syracuse University
Faculty Advisor, Economic Student Association of Syracuse University
President, Taiwanese American Association of Central New York