Prof. Nancy Abelmann

University of Illinois

The Intimate University:
An (Anti-) Asian American Premed and his Father

Prof. Nancy Abelmann is a Harry E. Preble Professor of Anthropology, Asian American Studies, East Asian Languages and Cultures, and Gender & Women’s Studies at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. She directs the Center for East Asian and Pacific Studies and co-directs the Ethnography of the University Initiative (EUI). Her publications include: Echoes of the Past, Epics of Dissent: A South Korean Social Movement, University of California Press, 1996; The Melodrama of Mobility: Women, Talk and Class in Contemporary South Korea, University of Hawai’i Press, 2003; Blue Dreams: Korean Americans and the Los Angeles Riots, with John Lie, Harvard University Press, 1995); and South Korean Golden Age Melodrama: Gender, Genre, and Nation (Wayne State University Press, 2005). She has just completed The Intimate University: College and the Korean American Family on the educational trajectories of Korean American public college students. She is currently working on What Korean American Teens and Parents do to Make Family Work based on field and survey research in Chicago land. Further information can be found on her personal homepage http://nancyabelmann.com/.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18TH @ 4.00 PM

204 MAXWELL HALL

THE LECTURE IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC