Ms. Sreeparvathy S. L. is currently working as the Under Secretary to the Government of India in the Ministry of Finance. She contributes in the design and implementation of indirect taxation policy, issuing clarification to trade and other stakeholders on service tax, and interacting with other ministries on service tax issues. During her Humphrey year, Sreeparvathy seeks to further her expertise in strategic thinking, HR management and negotiation, and learning customs practices in the U.S. Her future goals include serving in positions of increased responsibility, introducing more IT-driven platforms, and deepening understanding of economic crimes. She received her master’s in economics from Government College for Women Trivandrum and her Ph.D. in social capital from the University of Kerala.

Ms. Nader Zayer was most recently a Public Services Advisor at the Tunisian General Authority of Public-Private Partnerships under the Presidency of the Government. He is responsible for monitoring concession and partnership contracts and ensuring training courses in concessions and public-private partnerships. During his fellowship, Nader seeks to gain leadership, public management, and international cooperation skills to enhance his participation in the development efforts of his country. He plans to continue working to implement an efficient PPP framework as a way to advance the progress of the public services infrastructure in Tunisia. He graduated in statistics and information analysis engineering from the University of Carthage and received an executive post-graduate degree in public administration from the ENA National School of Administration of Tunisia.

Ms. Hanna Yahorava is the Executive Director at the Regional Press Publishers Association in Belarus where her responsibilities include fundraising, project management, organizing competitions, contests, conferences and leadership programs. Within five years, she anticipates being elected to the Belarusian Parliament or serving in a ministry, with a focus on youth and gender issues. Hanna is interested in the problem of women’s participation in public and political life, gender disproportion in decision-making, and women’s leadership. During her Humphrey year, she would like to learn how the U.S. overcame issues Belarus is currently facing. She would also like to establish connections with international organizations dealing with democratic development and transformation. Hanna completed her master’s in comparative history from European Humanities University (Lithuania) and obtained a diploma in political science from Warsaw University (Poland).
IT policy, leadership and collaboration. The goals of the Humphrey Fellowship Program, sponsored and funded by the U.S. government, are to enable each Fellow to develop a program that fosters personal and professional growth and prepares the Fellow to return home to contribute to the future development of his or her country. The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

Fellowships are granted competitively to professional candidates with a commitment to public service. The Humphrey Fellowship Program, sponsored and funded by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, is a U.S. government international exchange program that brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

The program brings accomplished young and midcareer professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The Fellows typically approach international understanding by providing a basis for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.