Anton Shevchenko
Ukraine

Anton Shevchenko was most recently the Senior Project Officer for Ukraine at Center for Civilians in Conflict (CIVIC), an international NGO. He also gained experience with the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) and the Ukrainian military. Anton focuses on nonprofit management, humanitarian and development policies, public administration and reconstruction in conflict-affected areas. He earned a Master’s of Advanced Studies in International and European Security from the University of Geneva, Switzerland, an MA in International Law from Varna Free University, Bulgaria, and a Military Studies diploma from the National Technical University Kharkiv Polytechnic Institute, Ukraine.

Francis Wau
Papua New Guinea

Francis Wau currently manages Information Technology Services in one of the Provincial Health Authorities of Papua New Guinea. He firmly believes that information technology is of great importance to developing countries, especially concerning issues of public health and education. Among many subjects, Francis wants to study how to develop quality ICT policy, risk management policy, cyber security policy, and information technology innovation as it all relates to governance. He has a BA in Commercial Computing (IT) from PNG University of Technology.

Su Wang
China

Su Wang is an editor and reporter of the Public Policy News Department at Caixin Media in China. She used to lead a news desk committed to recording, exploring and responding to the complex policy challenges in urban and rural development, including farmers’ rights, migrant workers’ rights, land reform, welfare system building, civil society development, inclusive urban planning, and poverty alleviation. Her and her team’s reports played an important role in public discussion in these areas in China. She aims to enhance understanding of public policy and expand networks to bring other countries’ experience to China. She has an MA in Media Economics from Renmin University of China and a BA in Japanese Language from East China Normal University.

Lala Zinkevych
Ukraine

Lala Zinkevych was most recently the Head of the Public Affairs and Strategic Communications Department of the leading NGO Center for Strategic Communications “StratCom Ukraine.” Here she developed and implemented public affairs and crisis response capacity-building projects for the Ukrainian Government in liaison with NATO, EU, UK and US diplomatic missions. Lala has also served as an advisor in public affairs to the Reforms Office of the Ministry of Defense of Ukraine. She wants to enhance her skills in managing public policy, public diplomacy, collaborative governance and NGO management. Lala earned a Master’s in Marketing Management from Kyiv National Economic University.

Islam Zaib
Pakistan

Islam Zaib is a civil servant in the federal government of Pakistan where he has been managing different districts as executive head of the district. He also has been working in the finance and planning departments in the northern part of Pakistan, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa and Federally Administered Tribal Areas (FATA). Islam coordinated development projects with international donor agencies for FATA of Pakistan as DIG Projects. His major area of interest is public policy and administration focusing on the analytical and administrative sides of public policy. Islam has an MBA in Public Service from the University of Birmingham United Kingdom, a BS (Hons) in Naval Sciences from the University of Karachi, and a Specialized Training Programme certificate from DMG Campus Upper Mall in Lahore.

Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program Staff
Margaret Lane
Program Director
Phone: 315.443.8708
Email: melane02@maxwell.syr.edu

Martha Ketcham
Associate Coordinator
Phone: 315.443.3759
Email: mhketcha@maxwell.syr.edu

Denise Mallory Breen
Assistant Program Coordinator
Phone: 315.443.3159
Email: dmmbreen@maxwell.syr.edu

Executive Education Program
Maxwell School of Syracuse University
219 Maxwell Hall
Syracuse, NY 13244
315.443.3759
Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program
at Syracuse University's Maxwell School

The Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program was initiated in 1978 to honor the late Senator and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and his life-long commitment to international cooperation and public service.

The program brings accomplished young and mid-career professionals from designated developing nations and emerging democracies to the United States for a year of professional development and related academic study, and cultural exchange. The program’s core philosophy is that international understanding and hands-on experience provides a foundation for lasting ties between U.S. citizens and their professional counterparts in other countries. It also strengthens the global exchange of knowledge and experience essential to a sustainable world.

Fellowships are granted competitively to professional candidates with a commitment to public service. The Humphrey Fellowship Program, sponsored and funded by the U.S. Department of State’s Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, is a U.S. government international exchange program administered by the Institute of International Education. It is administered by the Institute of International Education.

Hubert Humphrey Fellows come to the Maxwell School to pursue a master’s degree in Public Affairs or to participate in the part-time Dubbs program through the Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program. Maxwell is also home to Syracuse University’s Center for International Relations and Cooperation, the Maxwell School’s Center for International Relations and Cooperation, and the Maxwell School’s Institute for International Affairs.

Maxwell’s strong emphasis on global concerns in the classroom and in the halls of the School provides a unique setting in which we all operate.

Maxwell’s strong emphasis on global concerns in the classroom and in the halls of the School provides a unique setting in which we all operate.

Serge Adouakéo
Central African Republic

Serge Adouakéo is currently the Country Security Manager at Ecobank Côte d’Ivoire, where he manages the bank’s safety and security strategy. Previously, he held the position of Head of the 3rd Division, Head of the U.S. Military Division and the Infrastructure of the Ministry of Security. In 2015, he founded the Youth Education and Leadership Foundation where he works to empower the youth of Central African Republic. During his Humphrey year he plans to continue to develop a better understanding of how governments in crisis implement reform programs and how poor rural communities can be empowered, while focusing on research and analysis of public policies. Mr. Mavrick has a Master in Public Administration from Anton de Kom University of Suriname and an MBA from the Business School for Government.

Mavrick Bojeokeke
Suriname

Mavrick Bojeokeke was most recently a District Commissioner responsible for the strategic leadership in a tribally-rural side community residing in the Sipaliwini district of Suriname. In 2015, he founded the Education and Leadership Foundation where he works to empower the youth of these communities. During his Humphrey year he plans to continue to develop a better understanding of how governments in crisis implement reform programs and how poor rural communities can be empowered, while focusing on research and analysis of public policies. Mr. Mavrick has a Master in Public Administration from Anton de Kom University of Suriname and an MBA from the Business School for Government.

Gabriel Ferrera
Menezes Guimarães
Brazil

Gabriel Ferrera Menezes Guimarães is a Public Policy Specialist for the State of Minas Gerais Secretariat for Planning and Management. He would like to learn more about bidding and contract rules in the United States and the design, implementation and evaluation of policies regarding public procurement and their contribution to the development of specific productive segments, such as family farms and small businesses. Gabriel has a law degree from the Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais and a Bachelor’s degree in Public Administration from João Pessoa Foundation’s School of Government.

Ha Thi Thanh Huong
Vietnam

Ha Thi Thanh Huong has been a senior investigative reporter for print and online newspapers in Vietnam for over a decade, covering politics, public policy, and environmental issues. She has earned several awards for her work, including the National Press Award for her exposé of the secret Vietnam-China border war of 1979–1989. As a Humphrey fellow, she is focusing on the complex relationship between political policy-making and the media. Huong plans to return to Vietnam better able to play a leadership role in improving public policy. She completed her BA at the Academy of Journalism and Communication.

Isaura Mauele
Mozambique

Isaura Mauele is a law specialist working in private public for non-governmental organizations since 2007. She focuses on gender and land policies, specifically public policy, governance and agricultural investment. Isaura’s primary interests are public policy and public administration in order to better assess and challenge international public policies in Mozambique. She has a law degree from Polytechnic University in Maputo, a degree in communication from University of Bastien Superior T echnician Diploma in Information & Technology.

Rakesh Arya
India

Rakesh Arya has been an officer of the Indian Police Service for 15 years and currently the Deputy Inspector General of Police, Administration and Training for the Haryana Police. As District Head of Police, he worked on the issues of crimes against women (CAW) and women’s empowerment. Rakesh wants to expand his knowledge to continue working on women’s empowerment; developing a model for women’s safety in India, violence against women, female facultic discriminatory work environment; and training NGOs. He also focuses on cybersecurity and social media management/ policy. Rakesh is completing a law degree from Maharshi Dayanand University and holds a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.

Magda Monteza
Panama

Ms. Magda Monteza is a strategic planning specialist at the Panamanian Department of Government, as well as an editor for socio-economic think tank’s publications. Her main focus is public policies and public partnerships for development. Magda’s goals are to further her understanding of public private collaboration for development, as well as the formulation of public policies to move the country towards a more cohesive society. Most recently, Magda works ‘C’ertification’ in Organizational Ontology from IESA. She has masters degrees in Maritime Business Management and International Commerce from ULACEX. Magda also has a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.

Gideon Santino Obore
Panama

Gideon Santino Obore is currently the Executive Director of the Commission for Human Rights and Social Welfare, a government organization (CBO) in the field of peace building, dialogue and national and international peace building, dialogue and human rights. He plans to study a Master’s degree in Organizational Ontology from IESA. He has a Master’s degree in Maritime Business Management and International Commerce from ULACEX. Magda also has a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.

2018-19 Humphrey Fellows

Serge Adouakéo
Central African Republic

Serge Adouakéo is currently the Country Security Manager at Ecobank Côte d’Ivoire, where he manages the bank’s safety and security strategy. Previously, he held the position of Head of the 3rd Division, Head of the U.S. Military Division and the Infrastructure of the Ministry of Security. In 2015, he founded the Youth Education and Leadership Foundation where he works to empower the youth of these communities. During his Humphrey year he plans to continue to develop a better understanding of how governments in crisis implement reform programs and how poor rural communities can be empowered, while focusing on research and analysis of public policies. Mr. Mavrick has a Master in Public Administration from Anton de Kom University of Suriname and an MBA from the Business School for Government.

Gabriel Ferrera
Menezes Guimarães
Brazil

Gabriel Ferrera Menezes Guimarães is a Public Policy Specialist for the State of Minas Gerais Secretariat for Planning and Management. He would like to learn more about bidding and contract rules in the United States and the design, implementation and evaluation of policies regarding public procurement and their contribution to the development of specific productive segments, such as family farms and small businesses. Gabriel has a law degree from the Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais and a Bachelor’s degree in Public Administration from João Pessoa Foundation’s School of Government.

Ha Thi Thanh Huong
Vietnam

Ha Thi Thanh Huong has been a senior investigative reporter for print and online newspapers in Vietnam for over a decade, covering politics, public policy, and environmental issues. She has earned several awards for her work, including the National Press Award for her exposé of the secret Vietnam-China border war of 1979–1989. As a Humphrey fellow, she is focusing on the complex relationship between political policy-making and the media. Huong plans to return to Vietnam better able to play a leadership role in improving public policy. She completed her BA at the Academy of Journalism and Communication.

Isaura Mauele
Mozambique

Isaura Mauele is a law specialist working in private public for non-governmental organizations since 2007. She focuses on gender and land policies, specifically public policy, governance and agricultural investment. Isaura’s primary interests are public policy and public administration in order to better assess and challenge international public policies in Mozambique. She has a law degree from Polytechnic University in Maputo, a degree in communication from University of Bastien Superior T echnician Diploma in Information & Technology.

Rakesh Arya
India

Rakesh Arya has been an officer of the Indian Police Service for 15 years and currently the Deputy Inspector General of Police, Administration and Training for the Haryana Police. As District Head of Police, he worked on the issues of crimes against women (CAW) and women’s empowerment. Rakesh wants to expand his knowledge to continue working on women’s empowerment; developing a model for women’s safety in India, violence against women, female facultic discriminatory work environment; and training NGOs. He also focuses on cybersecurity and social media management/ policy. Rakesh is completing a law degree from Maharshi Dayanand University and holds a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.

Magda Monteza
Panama

Ms. Magda Monteza is a strategic planning specialist at the Panamanian Department of Government, as well as an editor for socio-economic think tank’s publications. Her main focus is public policies and public partnerships for development. Magda’s goals are to further her understanding of public private collaboration for development, as well as the formulation of public policies to move the country towards a more cohesive society. Most recently, Magda works ‘C’ertification’ in Organizational Ontology from IESA. She has masters degrees in Maritime Business Management and International Commerce from ULACEX. Magda also has a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.

Gideon Santino Obore
Panama

Gideon Santino Obore is currently the Executive Director of the Commission for Human Rights and Social Welfare, a government organization (CBO) in the field of peace building, dialogue and national and international peace building, dialogue and human rights. He plans to study a Master’s degree in Organizational Ontology from IESA. He has a Master’s degree in Maritime Business Management and International Commerce from ULACEX. Magda also has a Master’s degree in Communication, Media and Information Management.