A Dios Momo (2006)
Directed by: Leonardo Ricagni

An 11-year-old street boy, OBULDIO, who sells newspapers for a living but cannot read or write, finds a magical "Maestro" in the night watchman of the newspaper's office. OBULDIO's charismatic mentor not only introduces him to the world of literacy but also teaches him the real meaning of life through the lyrics of the "Murgas" (Carnival Pierrots) during the mythical nights of the irreverent and provocative Urugauyan Carnival. Written by Leonardo Ricagni.

December 4, 2009
7:00 pm
Kittredge Auditorium (HBC)

In Spanish, with English subtitles.

Please join us for a good movie and a cup of coffee!
Everybody is welcome!