Falk College Research Brown Bag Forum

Featuring

Yuliya Chorna, MPA, MSW (SU ’09)
Executive Director

AND

Iuliia Pylypas
Program Developer

of the international NGO
International HIV/AIDS and TB Institute

who will present

How Ukrainian Social and Public Health Interventions are Adapting to War-related Environment: Challenges and Opportunities

Tuesday, March 31, 2015
Location: 120 White Hall
12:30 — 2:00 pm
Lunch will be provided

Yuliya Chorna, a 2009 MSW graduate of the Syracuse University School of Social Work, and Iuliia Pylypas are respectively Executive Director and Program Developer of the International HIV/AIDS and TB Institute in Ukraine, a non-governmental organization focused on public health and health promotion. Given circumstances in Ukraine, its current emphasis is on the development of psycho-social support and public health services for soldiers at risk for post-traumatic stress disorders and for internally displaced persons. They are visiting the United States to learn about innovative services as possible models in Ukraine and to explore possibilities for collaborative projects.

This event is sponsored by the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics Research Center.

Please RSVP to Ayse Cakirsoy-Aslan at adcakirs@syr.edu