July 1, 2019

On behalf of the faculty and staff of the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs, I welcome you to the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University.

The Maxwell School is the first school to provide graduate education in public administration in the United States. We are very excited to welcome you as our 95th class. Graduates of our programs serve in a wide range of leadership, management, finance, and policy positions at all levels of government and in private and nonprofit sectors in the United States and around the world.

The school, with its multidisciplinary faculty, diverse student body, extensive alumni network, and excellent facilities, offers the perfect environment for graduate education in public affairs. At Maxwell, you will work with the highest quality faculty and staff and learn in a supportive environment that prepares you for the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead.

This handbook describes MPA program requirements, specialized programs-of-study, and public administration course offerings.

You can also consult our website, which has the most up-to-date information available. Our faculty and staff are happy to answer any additional questions and to enthusiastically support your educational goals. Please feel free to talk with us as you plan your academic schedule and begin your studies.

Again, welcome to the Maxwell School and the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs.

Best wishes for success in your graduate studies!

Robert Bifulco
Associate Dean and Chair
MISSION STATEMENT

The Masters of Public Administration (MPA) program at the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to enhance knowledge and develop skills essential to careers in public service. We believe public service means using one’s abilities and opportunities to contribute to the broad public good, across levels of government and with nonprofit and for-profit organizations, nationally and internationally.

The MPA program is grounded in a comprehensive view of public service education that appreciates the need for three areas of mastery: formulating, implementing and evaluating policy; leading and managing organizations with diverse stakeholders; and applying rigorous and evidence-based analysis to inform decision making.

To accomplish this mission, the Maxwell School’s MPA program is designed with several distinctive features, including a twelve-month intensive cohort experience, a broad cross-section of domestic and international students, productive and accessible faculty who are engaged in applied interdisciplinary research, and a focus on citizenship in teaching, scholarship, and service.

MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (MPA)

In a society facing complex problems, there is a great need for skilled public managers and policy analysts. The Master of Public Administration (MPA) educates leaders to fulfill these public service careers.

Since its inception in 1924, the Maxwell School and its faculty have greatly influenced public administration's growth and development. The MPA is designed principally, but not exclusively, for those who plan to pursue careers in the public and not-for-profit sectors. The degree prepares individuals for careers as managers and policy analysts in government agencies and closely associated organizations.

More than 8,500 Maxwell School alumni work in federal, state, and local governments, nonprofit agencies and foundations, private firms, and university faculties worldwide.

The MPA degree provides students with mastery in skills and knowledge essential to public service careers. This includes: (1) formulating, implementing and evaluating policy; (2) leading and managing organizations with diverse stakeholders; and (3) applying rigorous, evidence-based analysis to decision making.

This ensures that all graduates: (1) can apply qualitative and quantitative methods of research and analysis to public policy issues; (2) achieve substantial competency in organization design and analysis, and in management and administration techniques; and (3) understand the political, economic and social context of public administration.

MPA Degree Requirements

The MPA degree requires 40 credits of graduate coursework, including 25 credits of required coursework and 15 credits of elective courses. Students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0.

MPA Core Requirements

All MPA candidates must fulfill ALL core course requirements. The core curriculum confers mastery in the following areas of Public Administration:

- Applied Public Management Principles
- Applied Decision-Making
- Citizenship & Public Affairs
- Leadership
- Policy Formulation
- Programmatic Design
- Public & Nonprofit Organizations
- Quantitative Policy Analysis

Waiver Exam for Economics or Statistics Core Courses

Students with knowledge comparable to that covered in PAI 721 Introduction to Statistics and PAI 723 Economics for Public Decisions are encouraged to sit for the relevant waiver examinations. Students who pass these exams waive the core requirement.

Waiver exams take place immediately prior to the fall and spring semesters. Students may only attempt the non-credit bearing exam once. The department has course syllabi and preparation materials on hand to provide context for the exams.

Specialized Coursework (15 Credits)

Students can take 15 credits of coursework designed to develop specialization areas in policy sub-fields. These selections are made in consultation with an academic advisor and draw on the interdisciplinary strengths of the department of public administration and international affairs (PAIA) and the Maxwell School. At least nine of these credits must be in PAIA. Specialization areas include:

- Data Analytics for Public Policy
- Environmental Policy & Administration
- International & Development Administration
- National & International Security Policy
- Public & Nonprofit Management
- Public Sector Innovation and Management
- State & Local Government Financial Analysis & Management
- Social Policy

Expected Course Load

Full-time graduate students at Syracuse University register for at least nine credits in the fall and spring semesters and at least six credits during the summer semester. Registering for fewer credits may affect financial aid, visa status, or graduate award eligibility.

Time Required to Complete the MPA Program

The MPA program can be completed in 12 months of full time study, with coursework in both summer terms. Most students complete the program on this schedule. For students who wish to extend their studies to better balance work responsibilities and incorporate more formalized experiential learning into their studies, it is possible to extend your residency further.

Starting in 2019-2020, MPA students can pursue the degree on an eighteen-month schedule, incorporating a full-time internship during their second summer (summer 2020) and complete their MPA Workshop and Leadership and Public Policy coursework during their second fall (fall 2020).

AREAS OF STUDY

The following areas of study guide the selection of elective courses. Pursuing coursework in each of these areas of study develops competencies in a specific management or policy focus area within the MPA program structure.

PAIA has identified the following programs of study as falling under the overall MPA program:
- Data Analytics for Public Policy
- Environmental Policy & Administration
- International Development & Administration
- National & International Security Policy
- Public & Nonprofit Management
- Public Sector Innovation & Management
- Social Policy
- State & Local Government Financial Analysis & Management

THE BENEFITS OF A BLENDED PROGRAM

Most MPA students select specialized coursework from multiple program areas. By completing a minimum of three courses (nine credits) in a particular area of study, a student can build the specialization in one area and still use other electives to broaden one’s skills and knowledge.

The additional six credits of elective coursework are selected from other PAIA departmental courses or from other departments within the Maxwell School or the broader Syracuse University community.
DATA ANALYTICS FOR PUBLIC POLICY

Contemporary technologies are generating tremendous amounts of real-time data, and computer algorithms and sophisticated metrics help convert these data into actionable information that can help inform policy and improve delivery of government services. The availability and sensitivity of these data, as well as the increasing reliance on algorithms to drive decisions, also raises a host of public policy issues.

Students in this program will learn advanced skills in managing and analyzing large amounts of data and gain familiarity with the policy and governance issues raised by the use of emerging technologies and resulting data. Through rigorous coursework, they will assess how data can inform decision-making, master analytical frameworks to address public sector challenges, as well as understand the public policy issue raised by expanding the use of big data and algorithmically driven decision-making and ways to address those issues.

This new area of specialization recognizes the increasing employer demand for expertise in extracting, storing, and managing data, as well as an understanding of ways in which data can inform government decision making.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATES AND JOINT DEGREES

In addition to data analytics for public policy coursework, students can pursue coursework towards a Certificate of Advanced Study in Data Analytics for Public Policy. This option is described in the Certificate of Advanced Study section beginning on page 40.

EMPLOYMENT

The skills and knowledge that students will develop in the Data Analytics for Public Policy coursework are applicable to varied careers in local, state, and federal government, think tanks, consulting, and non-governmental organizations (NGOs). Past students who have completed coursework in Data Analytics for Public Policy hold positions at:

International Organizations
- The World Bank, Data Scientist
- UN Women, Policy Specialist, Research and Data

Government Service
- NYC Department of Education, Director of Data Analysis
- US Government Accountability Office, Senior Data Analyst
- US Office of Management and Budget, Senior Policy Analyst

Not-for Profit
- The Behavioral Insights Team, Associate Advisor
- Maxwell X-Lab, Co-Founder and Managing Director
- Development Initiatives, Analyst
- University of Chicago Poverty Lab, Senior Data Associate
- Consultant, Science Applications International Corporation
ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY & ADMINISTRATION

The environmental policy & administration area of study develops an understanding of the economic, administrative, political, and legal challenges confronting public managers who address contemporary environmental policy challenges. Environmental policy and administration coursework provides knowledge of environmental policy and institutions involved at all levels of government, current trends, needs, and administrative problems.

Among the areas of recent and current research of Maxwell School faculty in environmental policy are issues involving: global climate change, energy, water, biodiversity, trans-boundary environmental management, public lands policy, public participation, role of media, environmental risk, technology, and environmental policy.

³ Please note that if you are pursuing a concurrent degree with SUNY-ESF, you will still have to complete 34 credits of PAI-prefixed coursework.
Electives with a strong natural science (such as water resources and waste management) or economic (such as environmental or land use economics) components may also be available to meet the needs of students whose career interests merit such foci.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATES AND JOINT DEGREES

In addition to environmental policy & administration coursework, students can pursue coursework toward certificate programs and joint degrees with the Syracuse University College of Law or SUNY-ESF. These latter options are described in the Joint and Concurrent Degree Programs section, beginning on page 29.

EMPLOYMENT

There is a growing need for individuals with both managerial and environmental expertise. Students completing this area of study are well prepared for a variety of positions, including those similar to the following, currently held by Maxwell alumni. These include:

Not-for-Profit
- International Research & Relations Specialist, U.S. Green Building council
- Project Manager, World Resources Institute
- Policy Analyst, Society of American Foresters

Government Service
- Executive Director, Chesapeake Bay Critical Areas Commission, State of Maryland
- Congressional and Legislative Office, Attorney Advisor, U.S. Department of Interior
- Wildlife Biologist, Sequoia National Park
- Analyst, U.S. Government Accountability Office
- Director of Recycling, Onondaga County, New York
- Analyst, New York State Department of Environmental Conservation
- Assistant Attorney General, District Office of the Environment, District of Columbia

Public-Sector Consulting
- Research Assistant, Cascade Holistic Economic Consultants
- Consultant, Booz Allen Hamilton
- Consultant, Science Applications International Corporation
INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT & ADMINISTRATION

The international development & administration area of study exposes students to administrative and policy issues in developing countries and is of interest to students seeking positions with agencies that require a global perspective to address international challenges.

International development & administration coursework exposes students to administrative systems of developed and developing countries, how these factors influence policy, and how these policies promote international trade and development.

Faculty associated with this program focus on a wide range of international development issues, including health policy, humanitarian aid, agricultural development, and improving social welfare in lesser-developed countries.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATES AND JOINT DEGREES

The Maxwell School’s Master of Public Administration/Master of Arts in International Relations (MPA/MAIR) degree allows students interested in global public sector management to integrate two paths of study. For more information on this degree, please consult the Master of Arts in International Relations handbook, published in August 2019 and found online at the PAIA website.

EMPLOYMENT

There is always a need for official development assistance staff. In addition to the skills developed at Maxwell, international experience and foreign language skills are key assets.

Students completing this area of study are well prepared for a variety of positions, including those similar to the following positions currently held by Maxwell alumni. These include:

International Non-Governmental Organizations
   Project Manager, Humanitarian Capacity Building, Save the Children
   Program Assistant, International Foundation of Elections
   Program Officer, International Women’s Project at Alliance for Social Dialogue.

International Public Sector
   Education Specialist, World Bank
   Program Manager, USAID, Office of Transition Initiatives
   Research Fellow, Inter-American Development Bank
   Research Associate, Center for Strategic and International Studies
Contemporary international and national security policy challenges remain as salient as ever. These include securing borders, transportation, and communications systems, gathering intelligence, implementing counterterrorism strategies, protecting privacy and civil rights, and event structuring government.

This area of study offers an entry point to gain insight into and contribute to the development of innovative approaches to international and national security within national governments, international institutions, and the private sector. The core of the curriculum provides a foundation in national security law, policy and strategic practice, foreign policy and international security challenges, and civil-military relations.

Students can augment their coursework by engaging in simulation exercises and exploring case studies; participating in discussions with faculty members, practitioners, and experts in the field; and conducting research projects. All of these approaches develop leadership and management skills, capabilities, and insights relevant to confronting pressing security demands.

Both are administered by the Institute for National Security and Counterterrorism (INSCT, http://insct.syr.edu). See page 38 for more information on certificates.

EMPLOYMENT

National and international security policy staff are in constant demand. The following positions represent a selected list of positions held by Maxwell School alumni:

U.S. Federal Government
- Counterintelligence Investigator, U.S. National Security Agency
- Analyst, U.S. Defense Intelligence Agency
- Special Agent, Naval Criminal Investigative Service
- Legal Advisor, ICE, U.S. Department of Homeland Security

State & Local Government
- Analyst, Onondaga County Department of Emergency Management

Public-Sector Consulting
- Consultant, CSC International
- Analyst, Global Security Division, Booz Allen Hamilton
PUBLIC & NONPROFIT MANAGEMENT

The Maxwell School has focused on public management training since its inception. This area of study provides graduates with a wide range of managerial and administrative concepts and skills.

By emphasizing broad-based analytical and managerial skills, the Public & Nonprofit Management program provides training that prepares students for careers at all levels of government, in nonprofit organizations, and with private firms that principally work with the public and social sector.

Students will obtain knowledge of the tools of governance, organizational management theories and practices, institutions and policies surrounding personnel administration, strategic public and nonprofit management; policy implementation, managing groups and teams, oversight and accountability, the role of technology and information in public and nonprofit management; and collaborative public management, negotiation, and conflict resolution, among other topics.

Faculty teaching the Public & Nonprofit Management area represent a wide range of interests, reflecting the breadth of this area of study. These faculty focus on organization structure and design, policy tools and implementation, service delivery networks, partnerships and contracts, managerial leadership, politics of civil service, social entrepreneurship, philanthropy in nonprofit organizations, managerial leadership, public administration and law, collaborative public management, nonprofit leadership, and citizen participation in the policy process.

New technologies are changing the way that public sector organizations operate, creating opportunities to improve efficiency, transparency, and impact. However, they also present challenges in assessing which technologies are a good fit, balancing the risks and rewards of innovation, and facilitating organizational change that is necessary to embrace new technologies. There is an increased need for public sector managers who can identify opportunities created through new technology and manage the process of change.

The technological innovations brought on by the changes of the “Second Machine Age” can transform the role of government and quasi-governmental organizations, who serve as both consumers and regulators of the innovation market.

There is an increased need for public sector managers who can bridge the cultural differences between traditional government sectors and the private sector. Coursework in this area of study will equip students to manage new facets of public service delivery across these sectors. Coursework in this area of study will equip students to manage new facets of public service delivery. Skills developed include effectively managing the information channels within organizations, using data to create transparency and improve performance, evaluating the technology acquisition and implementation process within public and private sector organizations, promoting open government, harnessing technology development for public benefit, and understanding the challenges that new technologies have for citizen privacy, among others. This coursework will allow students to meet the management challenges that public organizations face as a result of changes in technology and service delivery.

EMPLOYMENT

Students pursuing this area of study will work in agencies primarily concerned with technical and information issues, such as state energy offices, NASA, Department of Defense, consulting firms, or environmental agencies.

Many will assume jobs in positions requiring technical knowledge, such as technology transfer and export control agents at federal departments such as State, Commerce and Defense, decision support staff, or technical policy analysts. This grounding in technology and information policy is useful at all levels of government and in high demand in the private and not-for-profit sectors.

Federal Government
- Management Associate, National Aeronautics and Space Administration
- Program Analyst, U.S. Department of Energy
- Project Manager, U.S. Department of Energy
- Senior Technology Manager, U.S. Government Accountability Office

State & Local Government

- Lockheed Martin Corporation
SOCIAL POLICY

Social policy includes aging, education, health and social welfare policy, as well as health service management. Each area represents a major and enduring public policy concern, in which leadership in public management and policy analysis is critical.

The area of study concerns itself with the roles and responsibilities of the public sector in designing, managing, and evaluating health, education, and welfare programs for at-risk populations. Social policy involves elements of policy analysis, policy design, program evaluation, public management, and program implementation in the public and private non-profit sectors. It addresses issues related to distributional equity and equality of opportunity and access, particularly for those least able to help themselves in a market society, such as the elderly, children, the disabled, sick and unemployed.

Aging policy involves social, economic, and health problems within the older population, including income security, access to health care, and public policy needs of an aging society.

Families and children policy includes lone parents, welfare, work, and child health and well-being.

Social welfare policy particularly involves evaluation and alleviation of poverty, material deprivation and discrimination in American society.

Education policy involves the finance and delivery of education services in the American education system (particularly elementary and secondary education). Education policy at Maxwell emphasizes education reforms such as school choice, accountability, teacher recruitment and retention, and the design of equitable school finance systems.

Health services management and policy (HSMP) is aimed at a multi-professional approach to managing the health care industry and developing appropriate public policies to meet the needs of a rapidly changing health care marketplace. Students focusing on this area should also consider the Certificate of Advanced Study in Health Services Management and Policy. This sub-field unites public administration with business, law, medicine, and social work to address contemporary issues such as legal and illegal drugs, child health, and health care finance.

STATE & LOCAL GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL ANALYSIS & MANAGEMENT

State & local government financial analysis & management provides students with an understanding of the fundamental fiscal issues confronting administrators and policy-makers. It also provides basic technical knowledge and skills required of entry-level professionals in budget and finance offices, legislative agencies, and other organizations associated with state and local finance functions.

This area of study introduces students to key institutions involved in state and local finance, critical fiscal policy issues facing state and local governments, application of analytical techniques to fiscal issues, and fiscal data sources.

Current research and consulting activities of core faculty include the development of government revenue and expenditure forecasting methods; evaluation of the effects of state and local tax and expenditure limitations; assessing governments’ credit-worthiness and ability to finance capital expenditures; state and local financing of environmental infrastructure; trends in the fiscal condition of central cities; evaluation of the impact of mandates and court orders on local finance; managing local fiscal decisions during the transition to democracy in Eastern Europe; school finance adequacy, equity and efficiency; resource allocation in public school districts; and factors affecting the cost of public services.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING AT THE MAXWELL SCHOOL

Master of Public Administration students develop professional competencies throughout their studies at the Maxwell School, but there are several additional options to develop further skills.

EXPERIENCE CREDIT OPTION - PAI 670

Internships and other professional development experiences enable students to gain valuable experience in governmental and nonprofit agencies, while providing these agencies the services of graduate students with high potential for future achievement. These experiences also allow for greater application of classroom learning and service in a contemporary context, integrating academics with professional experience.

Internships are strongly recommended for students lacking experience or moving in new professional directions. Anyone interested in internships should consult the Palmer Career Center for more information.

Students may earn up to three credits for internships and apply these credits toward their degree requirements. This experiential learning appears on a transcript as PAI 670 - Experience Credit. Students may also engage in internships simply to build their resume, without earning credit. Please note that JD/MPA students cannot count internships towards the MPA degree.

The following parameters must be met to count an internship for credit. Additionally, all internships require a supervisor’s evaluation and a written summary report by the student.

Internship Academic Requirements

Internship credit is not earned for work conducted before a student matriculates or after a student has completed all degree requirements.

In order to obtain the internship credit, students will work with Professor Masood Hyder to link their public administration coursework with the internship experience. Students are required to write a paper detailing their experience and the relationship between their job tasks and work environment, to the core areas of public administration.

This paper will be graded and serve as the main basis for the grade, along with the internship supervisor’s evaluation and the completion of the requisite number of internship hours. Students are strongly encouraged to meet to discuss the paper early on in the internship experience.

Service Time Requirements

Internships to be counted towards the MPA degree must be for a minimum of 150 hours over either a six-week (summer) or ten-week period (fall and spring). These should be considered as minimum requirements. Longer internships over the summer are encouraged for students pursuing the 18-month program plan.
Internship Registration

Internships for credit are registered under the course PAI 670 - Experience Credit. Registration for PAI 670 requires the registration form “Internship Proposal-Agreement” (available on the Registrar’s Office website).

This form specifies the agreed upon duties of the intern, and the procedure and criteria by which the intern’s performance will be evaluated. Both the student and the faculty sponsor who will supervise the intern must sign the form prior to registration. The form must also be signed by the department’s associate director. Registration for an internship must be completed no later than the academic drop deadline for the semester it is registered in.

INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSE OPTION - PAI 690

A student may earn course credit by enrolling in PAI 690 Independent Study. Enrollment in an independent study is reserved for students who want to do work in an area where no formal course is available, or in an area where they have already completed one or more formal courses and wish to continue work.

Students enrolling in PAI 690 Independent Study are required to describe their study plan on the appropriate registration form and obtain signatures of the faculty member who agrees to supervise the work and the department chair.

Approval by the supervising faculty member and the department chair must be obtained prior to registration for the semester in which the independent study will be carried out.

MPA WORKSHOP - PAI 752

The MPA workshop serves as a culminating experience for MPA students. By engaging in a four-week, full-time experience, students investigate and address contemporary issues in public administration and policy and apply theoretical knowledge of public administration topics to real-world challenges.

Examples of past workshop projects and clients can be requested from Isaac Olson, Global Programs Coordinator.
ACADEMIC ADVISING

PAIA believes a multi-layered interactive advising approach is preferable to an assigned-advisor structure. Therefore, all departmental faculty, staff, and alumni are available for advising.

Faculty in PAIA play an active role in academic advising alongside the department’s professional staff.

The department provides ample access to meet with faculty during the summer and throughout the year, but it is helpful to speak with faculty on shared interests around advising, professional development, and career advancement. As this is a professional graduate program, students are encouraged to fully develop their relationships with faculty throughout their tenure at Syracuse University.

Additional sources for advising are also available. Course planning guides are available for joint JD/MPA students. Joint MPA/MAIR students have detailed planning guides available in the MAIR handbook. The department also maintains a record of all prior course syllabi in the PAIA office for students to review.

Academic advising for MPA students begins during the summer session, when PAIA sponsors informational lunches where faculty highlight different area of study and certificate of advanced study options available to students. These meetings will be held in advance of the fall registration, beginning on August 1.

For more in-depth course advising than these sessions or this handbook provides, MPA students should consult with Josh Kennedy, Associate Director, on how to structure their program and what courses will help them achieve their professional goals.
JOINT & CONCURRENT DEGREE PROGRAMS

MPA students may complete the MPA and a second graduate degree on a joint or concurrent basis. While just about any combination of areas of study is possible, some recent examples of concurrent degrees completed include graduate study in public administration combined with law, international relations, economics, information science and technology, political science, geography, social work, and management.

In cases where two or more distinct graduate degrees are to be awarded by Syracuse University to one student, the minimum number of credit-hours needed must be at least 80% of the combined total of Syracuse credit-hours normally required for each of the separate degrees. All concurrent degree MPA students will complete a minimum of 34 credits in public administration.
JD/MPA JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM

The connection between law, public policy, and management is clear. This is particularly true in the many areas where laws and regulations are revised on a daily basis. The joint JD/MPA program prepares students to address these challenges at all levels of government, as well as in the traditional legal services field.

Students in the joint JD/MPA program obtain both the JD and MPA degrees with a minimum of 97 overall credits, including 72 credits at the Syracuse University College of Law and 25 credits within PAIA.

JD/MPA - CORE COURSE REQUIREMENTS (25 Credits)

Joint JD/MPA students must complete the following required Public Administration courses.

- PAI 600 Public Affairs Colloquium
- PAI 712 Public Organizations and Management
- PAI 721 Introduction to Statistics
- PAI 722 Quantitative Analysis
- PAI 723 Economics for Public Decisions
- PAI 734 Public Budgeting
- PAI 751 JD/MPA Seminar: Regulatory Law and Policy

Students must also enroll in two PAI electives for six additional credits of coursework for a total of 25 credits of PAI coursework. This is in addition to 72 credits of coursework at the College of Law. Joint JD/MPA students must also complete LAW 702 Administrative Law as a pre-requisite for PAI 751, JD/MPA Seminar: Regulatory Law and Policy.

Due to university regulations, there are specific guidelines for acceptable courses allowed toward the 25 PAI credits required for the MPA portion of the joint JD/MPA degree. Student may NOT use the following types of credit to meet the MPA degree requirements:

- Credit for coursework completed outside PAIA;
- Credit for internships or independent studies.

PROGRAM SEQUENCE

Students pursuing the joint JD/MPA program begin MPA coursework during the summer between their 1L and 2L years. It is highly recommended that all joint JD/MPA students complete four credits of PAIA coursework (PAI), the MPA Colloquium and Public Budgeting, during the summer immediately before their 2L year, as this permits them to take remaining MPA degree credits in their 2L & 3L years. There are several suggested course patterns, but students should consult with their advising staff in the College of Law and PAIA for more information.

4 Satisfies the University’s comprehensive requirement for the Master’s program. This course is cross-listed in the College of Law - but all joint JD/MPA Students MUST register for this course under the PAI 751 prefix.

The final 15 credits of coursework towards the MPA degree can be comprised of courses taken towards the 72 credits of law coursework taken at the Syracuse University College of Law. These courses should be policy-focused. In order to use College of Law Coursework towards the MPA degree, it must be (1) graded and (2) have earned a grade of B or better.

MPA/MA-INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (MAIR) JOINT DEGREE PROGRAM

The joint degree in public administration and international relations (MPA/IR) allows for in-depth exploration of international relations-focused coursework alongside their specialization in public sector management.

More information on the Master of Arts in International Relations (MAIR) is found in the 2019-19 MAIR handbook, to be published in August 2019.

MASTER OF ARTS IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The MAIR degree requires graduate students to develop significant academic and professional expertise in one of five career track concentrations. These are as follows:

- Development and Humanitarian Assistance
- Governance, Diplomacy, and International Organizations
- International Economics, Finance, and Trade
- Peace, Security, and Conflict
- Regional Concentrations

PROGRAM SEQUENCE

The MPA/MAIR degree requires students to complete core requirements for both individual degrees as part of 58 credits of total graduate coursework. Most students spend three semesters on Syracuse University’s main campus and at least one semester conducting overseas research or professional development opportunities in their chosen field of focus.

The MAIR handbook provides a more detailed course planning sheet, as well as information on international opportunities and off-campus practical development.

MPA/ESF Students

The concurrent degree with SUNY-ESF allows students to focus on how environmental sciences, forestry and natural resources management, as well as landscape architecture.

Students pursuing the concurrent degree must complete 34 credits of coursework with PAI prefixes. This includes the 25 credits of core coursework and nine credits of elective coursework within PAIA. The remaining six credits for the MPA degree are drawn from coursework taken at ESF.

Auditing Classes

ESF students are not permitted to audit Syracuse University classes.

Advising

The academic advising staff in PAIA help students identify courses within the department to best meet your academic goals.

Registration

As SUNY-ESF remains as a student’s primary home college, students will register for your fall and spring semester courses using the MySlice portal, selecting ESF as your school/career.

For summer registration, students must go first to the ESF registrar’s office in 111 Bray Hall to get a summer course registration form to be taken to a student’s ESF advisor. Upon advisor’s signature, return the form to the ESF registrar’s office, who will issue an accessory instruction letter. This letter is then taken to Syracuse University’s Office of the Registrar. The Registrar’s office staff will then register your coursework for the summer.

Payments and Billing

Students are billed through ESF. Since summer courses at ESF are not normally covered by tuition support, students should speak with the bursar and financial aid offices to accommodate this cost.

CERTIFICATES OF ADVANCED STUDY OPTIONS

Syracuse University offers a variety of Certificates of Advanced Study (CAS) allowing students to obtain additional specialization in a subject-matter area beyond their graduate degree focus.

CAS OPTIONS FOR MATRICULATED GRADUATE STUDENTS

The following certificates are available to students matriculated into SU graduate programs.

CAS IN CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANIZATIONS

The CAS in Civil Society Organizations prepares professionals for the NGO field or for research focusing on the roles of non-state actors in global civil society. The CAS requires 15-credits of coursework focusing on global civil society issues. This includes work in disciplines ranging from public administration and political science to sociology, geography, social work, and law. This coursework integrates theoretical and applied perspectives on NGOs and civil society actors and supports multidisciplinary graduate training around this field.

The CAS requires students to take the required pro-seminar (PAI 713: Governance & Global Society), one foundational perspective course, two discipline specific courses, and a capstone experience (the MPA Workshop can serve as this experience for MPA students). Specific details are on the Transnational NGO Initiative website.

CAS IN CONFLICT RESOLUTION

The Program for the Advancement of Research on Conflict and Collaboration (PARCC) offers a 12-credit CAS in Conflict Resolution that allows students to pursue in-depth study of conflict theory, concepts, and skills.

To earn the CAS, students complete Fundamentals of Conflict Studies (PAI 601) and nine additional credits of selected coursework. Students pursuing the CAS may choose a general area of study or concentrate on a specific area of interest, such as advocacy and activism; collaborative governance; environmental collaboration and conflict; or international and intra-state conflict. For more information, contact PARCC in 400 Eggers Hall or by phone at 315.443.2367.

CAS IN DATA ANALYTICS FOR PUBLIC POLICY

The 15-credit, graduate-level Certificate of Advanced Study (CAS) in Data Analytics for Public Policy provides students the opportunity to develop skills in managing and analyzing large amounts of data using emerging methods and techniques, including machine learning, to inform public sector decision-making.

The program also provides students familiarity with the policy and governance issues raised by the use of new forms of data, cognitive assistance technologies, and algorithmic decision-making. To earn the certificate, students complete the required PAI 724 Data Driven Decision Making and 12 additional credits of graduate coursework selected from a list of accepted courses. At least 6 credits must be taken in the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs. For more information contact Josh Kennedy, Associate Director at jjkenn01@syr.edu.
CAS IN ENVIRONMENTAL DECISION MAKING (SUNY - ESF)

Administered by SUNY-ESF, the CAS in Environmental Decision Making builds on the coursework outlined in the Environmental Policy and Administration area of study. This 15-credit certificate may require the completion of more credits than those required for the MPA degree. Additional information on the CAS is available from Dr. Peter Wilcoxen.

CAS IN HEALTH SERVICES MANAGEMENT AND POLICY - HSMP

In concert with the Whitman School of Management, the Syracuse University College of Law, Falk School of Sport and Human Dynamics and Syracuse University College of Engineering, the Maxwell School has developed a CAS focused on the United States' health service sector.

The CAS provides a multi-disciplinary perspective on the issues facing the health care system. Students enrolled in the certificate program complete courses designed to bring medical, business, legal and social work professionals together to discuss tradeoffs, conflicts and complementary forces in managing the health care system in the changing environment. For further information, visit: http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/exed/certificates/hsmp.

CAS IN POST-CONFLICT RECONSTRUCTION

Administered by the Institute for National Security and Counterterrorism (INSCT), a joint Maxwell School and Syracuse University College of Law initiative, this CAS is available to all graduate students.

The CAS in Post-Conflict Reconstruction (PCR) combines interdisciplinary courses, seminars, and internship opportunities to offer graduates the unique opportunity to prepare themselves professionally for a career in a wide range of post-conflict stabilization, reconstruction, and peace-building environments.

For the CAS, participating students complete 12 credits (two required courses, one elective course, and one capstone experience consisting of a course, project, or internship). Classes are offered in almost all Maxwell departments as well as the College of Law, Newhouse School of Communications, and Whitman School of Management. Additional information is available at http://insct.syr.edu or visit INSCT at 300 Dineen Hall.

CAS IN SECURITY STUDIES

Administered by INSCT, this CAS is available to all graduate students. It is a 12-credit (six required, six elective), interdisciplinary, law and policy studies program for students preparing for careers in national security, homeland security, and counterterrorism.

Security studies coursework and research covers US national security, national and international security threats, responses to terrorism, and challenges of homeland security preparedness and response. CAS recipients collaborate across a range of disciplines, including public administration, international relations, political science, law, history, and communications. Additional information is available at http://insct.syr.edu or visit INSCT at 300 Dineen Hall.
ACADEMIC OFFERINGS FOR 2019 - 2020

The following table identifies coursework taught by PAIA faculty and designed for MPA and EMPA students that is scheduled to be offered during the 2019-2020 academic year.

While this list is current as of the publication date of this handbook, it is subject to change due to unexpected circumstances. For up-to-date course offerings and schedules, please consult the departmental course list, available online, and MySlice.

Courses marked with an "" indicate a core requirement for the MPA degree. Courses marked with a "#" indicate a core requirement for the EMPA and CAS-PA degrees are only open to EMPA students.

ACADEMIC & PERSONAL STANDARDS

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY POLICY

The Academic Integrity Office of the Division of Academic Affairs at Syracuse University administers the University’s academic integrity policy. PAIA takes academic integrity very seriously.

Syracuse University aspires to the highest standards of integrity and honesty in all endeavors. The Academic Integrity Policy is designed to make integrity and honesty central to the Syracuse University experience by: setting forth clear ethical expectations for students in their academic endeavors; promoting consistency of standards and practices across colleges, schools and programs; encouraging reporting of suspected violations; and facilitating the resolution of cases as promptly as possible while providing thorough and fair consideration for students and instructors. Education is a central goal of the policy, including affording students an opportunity to discuss and learn from academic integrity violations.

Academic integrity is expected of all Syracuse University community members and the academic integrity policy applies to all school and colleges. A more detailed description of the academic integrity expectations of the Syracuse University community are detailed online at http://class.syr.edu/academic-integrity/policy/.

This University, like all academic institutions in the United States, assumes that the written work of a student is the student’s own, and that any original idea or research contributions taken from the published works of others will be properly acknowledged. In an academic setting, plagiarism is a serious concern. The presentation of other’s ideas, opinions and words as one’s own work violates academic integrity and any violation of academic integrity will be penalized by the university.

GRADING SYSTEM

Graduate students at Syracuse University are graded on an A-F scale. Please note that it is a Syracuse University academic regulation that graduate students may not be assigned the grade of D or D-.

Passing grades for graduate students lie within the general A, B, and C category. Since the graduate school requires a minimum 3.0 grade point average to certify a graduate degree, a grade below that threshold should be regarded as a strong indicator that coursework was below faculty expectations.

Graduate students may be granted an Incomplete (I) only if it can be demonstrated that exceptional circumstances prohibit the student from completing work in the normal time limits of the course. Generally speaking, illness or other exceptional circumstances are the basis for this consideration. Students who believe that their circumstances warrant the issuance of an incomplete should consult with the course instructor.

To receive an incomplete, a student must complete a Request for Incomplete form and obtain the instructor’s approval. The completed and signed Request for Incomplete is then submitted to the appropriate departmental chairperson. Until the work is completed, an incomplete calculates as an F (0 grade points) until the final work is submitted.
CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT

As graduate students at Syracuse University, you are expected to abide by the university’s universal student code of conduct. All Syracuse University students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner appropriate to the University’s educational mission. The University expects that all members of the community are committed to the fundamental ideals of integrity, respect for the person and property of others, and to the intellectual and personal growth within a diverse population.

For more details on the Syracuse University Student Code of Conduct, please visit: https://policies.syr.edu/policies/academic-rules-student-responsibilities-and-services/code-of-student-conduct/.

SERVICES, FACILITIES, & STUDENT ACTIVITIES

As a graduate student at the Maxwell School, you have access to programs available to all graduate and undergraduate students at Syracuse University, as well as resources designed specifically for Maxwell School and PAIA graduate students.

PAIA office staff are your first point of contact as you work to navigate the complexities of the Syracuse University system.

JOHN L. AND STEPHANIE G. PALMER CAREER CENTER

Located in 202 Maxwell Hall, the John L. and Stephanie G. Palmar Career Center offers resources specifically tailored to support the post-graduate career pursuits of graduate students in public administration and international affairs.

Recognizing that a career will evolve throughout its lifetime, the Palmer Career Center emphasizes development of the skills necessary to adapt to the changing work world.

During the year, the Palmer Career Center provides opportunities to participate in career-related workshops, employer visits, and networking opportunities. Students can also discuss their career goals and establish a career action plan with the dedicated counselors at the Palmer Career Center.

MAXWELL SCHOOL OFFICE OF ALUMNI AFFAIRS

The Maxwell School alumni network covers a wide variety of domestic and international agencies and organizations, and is a significant resource for those seeking information about organizations and/or networking for a job. Nearly 6,500 Maxwell alumni now participate in the Maxwell School LinkedIn Group and are happy to speak with graduate students and alumni about their career interests and job search process. In addition, many alumni visit the school during the course of the year to speak in classes and participate in workshops and in panel discussions. These alumni are also an important part of the network and are happy to talk informally with students.

JOSEPH A. STRASSER ACADEMIC VILLAGE

Public administration (EMPA and MPA) and international relations students enjoy their own Academic Village, named in honor of Maxwell alumnus, Joseph A. Strasser. This large area has spaces for lounging and socializing, small-group work, lockers, and a kitchenette. Students can also meet and socialize in the Eggers Café.

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION LOUNGE

MPA and EMPA students can study or socialize in 204 Maxwell Hall. The Executive Education office in Maxwell 219 also offers coffee, copy, and fax machines, as well as computer services for EMPA students.

COMPUTER SERVICES

Syracuse dedicates significant time and resources to ensuring that all of our students have technology support. Each Syracuse University student receives a NetID, a unique system generated ID that provides access to technology services across campus. This includes the university’s secured wireless internet through the AirOrangeX network, the SUmail email system, Blackboard class management software, and campus wide computer systems.

The SU email policy requires that all official University email communications be sent to your @syr.edu email address. If you choose to re-direct your @syr.edu email to another account, such as @gmail.com or @yahoo.com, you do so at your own risk. You can read the full SU Email policy at https://policies.syr.edu/policies/information-technology/e-mail-policy/.

Dedicated computer facilities for graduate students include the computer lab in Eggers 040, the equipment in the Academic Village, as well as all other computer facilities operated by the Syracuse University Information Technology and Services Department (ITS), found at http://its.syr.edu.

For technical issues, whether with your own computer or any of the university provided equipment; please contact the Maxwell School’s Information and Computing Technology (ICT) group. They can be reached by phone at 315.443.4742, by email at e-service@maxwell.syr.edu, or at their Help Desk in Eggers 034A.

LIBRARY AND RESEARCH RESOURCES

Every Syracuse University student has access to the Syracuse University Libraries, hosting more than 3.6 million books, and nearly 150,000 print and electronic journals. For more information on the resources available through the Syracuse University Libraries system, including physical collections at Bird, Carnegie, and the Geology Library, please visit http://library.syr.edu.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY SUPPORT SERVICES

As graduate students at Syracuse University, you have access to a broad range of services available to all Syracuse University Students.
BURSAR’S OFFICE

The Syracuse University Bursar’s Office, located at 119 Bowne Hall, is responsible for administering tuition and fee billing. For questions on any bill or payment related questions, they are reachable at bursar@syr.edu or by phone at 315.443.2444.

LILLIAN & EMANUEL SLUTZKER CENTER FOR INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARS

The Lillian & Emanuel Slutzker Center for International Scholars (SCIS) is the campus liaison office for U.S. immigration questions concerning non-U.S. citizens. It is the place to go on campus for questions regarding immigration regulations, passports, visas, insurance, employment, and travel. The SCIS can also provide support related to I-20 forms, CPT and OPT authorization and the adjustment to academic life in the United States university system. Located at 310 Walnut Place, the SCIS’s website is http://international.syr.edu. They can also be reached by email at lescis@syr.edu or by phone at 315.443.2457.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY COUNSELING CENTER

The Syracuse University Counseling Center provides mental health, sexual assault and relationship violence, and substance abuse services to the university community. The Center can be reached through its website at http://counselingcenter.syr.edu or by phone at 315.443.4715.

OFFICE OF FINANCIAL AID AND SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMS

The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship Programs, located in 200 Bowne Hall, is responsible for any questions related to financial aid and loan packages. Cynthia Roach is the dedicated graduate financial aid counselor and is reachable by email through http://syr.edu/financialaid/contact_us/index.html.

OFFICE OF OFF-CAMPUS AND COMMUTER STUDENT SERVICES

The OCCS is offers information, resources, education, and programs that promote skill development, student independence, and civic engagement to all Syracuse University students. OCCS also provides all students living off campus or commuting to campus from home with support, information, and resource referrals throughout their off-campus housing experience.

For students who opt for off-campus accommodations, OCCS distributes information on the network of educational and community services available to them, details on finding suitable housing, exercising their rights and upholding their responsibilities as tenants and as members of the community, and identifying resources that can assist with other off-campus housing questions. OCCS is available for in person assistance at 754 Ostrom Avenue, via phone at 315.443.5489, online at http://offcampus.syr.edu, and via email at offcampus@syr.edu.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY OFFICE OF DISABILITY SERVICES

The mission of the Office of Disability Services (ODS) is to engage the University Community to empower students, enhance equity, and provide a platform for innovation and inclusion. This mission is achieved by eliminating competitive disadvantages and environmental barriers that impact learning; as well as providing... individual accommodations and assistive technology that foster independent, self-determined learners. Students with disabilities are encouraged to register with ODS on-line at http://disabilityservices.syr.edu or in person at 804 University Ave.

OFFICE OF PARKING AND TRANSIT SERVICES

The Office of Parking and Transit Services serves as a one-stop location for information on transit around campus. On their website at http://parking.syr.edu, you will be able to find information about student parking, bus schedules to and from campus, campus shuttle information, Zipcar rental, as well as how to reach the Walsh Transit Center and Hancock International Airport.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR

The Office of the Registrar maintains and secures student records and is responsible for the issuance of Enrollment and Degree Verification Letters, as well as official university transcripts.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICES (SUHS)

Syracuse University Health Services (SUHS) specializes in college health and provides ambulatory healthcare for SU and SUNY-ESF students. Services available at Health Services include office visits, pharmacy needs, laboratory services, health education, public health monitoring, and travel services. SUHS is located at 111 Waverly Avenue. Appointments can be made by phone at 315.443.9005.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY RECREATION SERVICES

Syracuse University Recreation Services supports the university community in developing healthy lifestyle choices by enhancing learning opportunities and personal growth through the execution of quality recreation programs and services that support and promote the highest levels of citizenship, diversity, sportsmanship, responsibility, and leadership.

Recreation Services operates six fitness centers across campus, which have aerobic, weight training, and aquatic facilities. They also serve as the on-campus hub for fitness classes, intramural sports, and University wellness programs. Recreation Services is housed in the Women’s Building and is accessible online at http://recreationservices.syr.edu.
